Basketball Courts Northern Territory

Project Information

Client	House Of Darwin
Installer	Art Courts (Thomas Green Landscapes)
Location	Northern Territory
Completed	October 2023

House of Darwin is a social enterprise operating out of the Northern Territory that reinvests profits from its clothing sales into social programs for remote indigenous communities. One of these projects is #hoopdreamsinthent, an initiative to resurface basketball courts in remote communities with locally designed art courts in collaboration with the community youth and elders.

Mapei Solution

Mapei TNS Professional was chosen for this project due to the durability of the coating, playing characteristics and the vast array of colours on offer.

The existing asphalt court had to be mechanically ground back, repaired and recoated to the design required.

Mapei TNS provided solutions for the base repairs and re-coating of the courts to achieve the desired outcome.

MAPECOAT TNS WHITE BASE

COAT was used for the preparation of the substrates. This product is ideal for levelling off small hollows if present on the surfaces.

Mapecoat TNS Finish 1 a flexible, acrylic topcoat, was used as a finish coat to the surface.

Mapecoat TNS Race Track, an acrylic resin-based, rapid film-forming product was selected to protect and colour the surface of concrete in areas.

Success Factors

This was a very successful project that was very well embraced by the local community and stakeholders. This has led to more projects being put forward, with the next one in Central Australia and further projects upcoming in the Northern Territory
